

Spring 2021 Course Offering

Are you curious about how you could use your skills as a musician, artist, pedagogue, or scholar toward tackling sociocultural issues?

Consider enrolling into MUS 499:
Social Transformation, Technology, & Music

In tandem with musical creativity and understandings of theoretical frameworks designed to confront sociocultural issues, students will use technology to construct artistic works to help transform the world around them.

Wednesday, 1:00-3:30pm via Zoom (3 credit hours)
